HORSE IN THE HOLE.

A Funny Incident That Occurred on Eagle Street Monday Evening.

A funny accident which was very entertaining to all concerned but the horse that was in it occurred on Eagle street Monday evening. A man was driving up the street about 9 o'clock and was pushing along at quite a rapid gait. There is a big hole in the middle of the street where some matter of public need is being attended to. The man who had the excavation in their charge failed to provide the necessary number of lanterns and part of the hole was obscured in darkness and made an excellent trap for the unwary. The man who was driving rapidly up the street did not take in the dimensions of the hole and before he was aware his horse was up over the embankment that bounded the trap. The embankment was quite high and the horse hung down one side and the vehicle hung down the other. There was no possibility of backing out of the difficulty and the only thing to do was to unitch the animal and make an attempt to get it out without it going down to the bottom of the pit. The animal was loosened from the vehicle and the owner tried to turn it around so that it might climb over the bank on to the bit of street that was left. But the attempt was unsuccessful. The horse plunged into the excavation and stood on his hind legs begging for a delivering hand. The owner of the horse was decided that the best way to help the horse was to make it help itself and so he began a steady pull on the reins by way of inducement to the horse to get a move on and get up out of the hole. In due course of time, which is lengthy under such circumstances, the horse was induced to come out of his awkward position. No one present will declare that he heard anything said by the horse about saving the city. After it was held a consultation with some of the lawyers it may make some announcement concerning the matter. Of course it is known that no injury was done, but the horse has feelings and probably does not propose to be put in the position that common laborers often are, without receiving adequate compensation for the shock to its dignity.

Tonight's Lecture.

The second of the series of lectures under the auspices of the Men's Fraternity club, in the Tuesday night course, will take place this evening in the (Congregational) chapel. The lecture will be by Dr. Peak of Williams college, and the subject will be "Foreword." The lecture last week was attended by an audience that taxed the capacity of the chapel, which shows the popularity of the speaker and the high value the people are setting on the institute's work. The hour for the lecture to begin is 8 o'clock, and an early arrival at the chapel may do something in the way of securing a choice of seats.

Journeymen Bakers Organize.

Employees from five of the bakery shops in the city held a meeting in the C. L. U. hall Saturday evening for the purpose of forming an organization, a branch of the National Journeymen Bakers' association. A temporary organization was formed and a charter will be applied for. While this organization is for the betterment of the journeymen bakers, one of its chief motives will be the securing of the union label on bread, a matter in which the state organization is particularly aggressive. These officers were chosen: President, George Clifford; secretary, William McLaughlin; treasurer, J. W. Moore. Another meeting will be held Saturday evening.

A Pleasant Farewell.

Mrs. James P. Milner was the recipient of a pleasant surprise on Monday evening at the hands of the Blackinton circle of King's daughters. The assemblage was a joyous one and a general good time was the result. Mrs. Milner, who is about to leave Blackinton, was presented with a handsome rug, Mrs. Arthur N. Smith making the presentation remarks. Refreshments were served and Mrs. Milner will carry with her delightful memories of her farewell reception.

The Bridge Has Come.

The Main street bridge came Monday and the work of unloading it from the cars and delivering it where it is to be put up was begun. The men are here to place it in position which work will take about 10 days. It will have to be paved, so it will be some time after the bridge is up before it can be used. It is hoped to have it ready for use by the first of December.

District Court.

The following cases were disposed of in court this morning:

George Stevens, drunk, fined $5.

Patrick Bordenau, drunk, continued until Wednesday morning.

Patrick Walsh, drunk and disturbing the peace, fined $5 and $10 respectively.

Bear Swamp Mystery.

There are no developments in the Bear Swamp mystery. Deputy Sheriff Moloney was not up and doing today on account of the wet weather. It is the opinion of the officers that the mystery will be revealed before many days.

BY TELEGRAPH. THE TWO MURDER TRIALS

Kelley Smokes a Cigar While Visiting Scene of His Crime. First Witnesses in Thorn Case.

Somersworth, N. H., Nov. 9.—The exciting incidents of April 16, the day on which Cashier Stickney of Great Falls National bank was murdered, were recalled forcibly today when the jury which has been chosen to try Joseph E. Kelley for the murder arrived here at 8.30 to view the scene of the crime.

With them was the alleged murderer, Kelley, with his counsel and the government lawyers. The party visited the bank where the murder occurred and the Hayes orchard where it is alleged that Kelley left the money after the robbery. They viewed the spot where it is claimed he threw away the blood stained razor, with which the aged cashier's throat was cut.

Hundreds of people accompanied the procession through the streets but there was no demonstration. Kelley was the coolest person in the crowd. He smoked a cigar during the entire trip and occasionally nodded to old acquaintances whom he recognized among the townspeople.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

Dover, N. H., Nov. 9.—At the beginning of the trial of Joseph E. Kelley, the self-confessed murderer of Cashier Joseph A. Stickney, much more was accomplished during the first day's deliberation than had been anticipated by any one connected with the proceedings. The day was mostly taken up in empanelling the jury, the twelve men being accepted shortly after 4 o'clock after a large number had been challenged by the defense and prosecution, and several excused on account of age, or having formed an opinion on either the case itself or the line of defense that was likely to be taken. The defense had a right to challenge 20, while the state could reject 10.

The jurors selected are as follows: John R. Palmer, Barrington, farmer; Freeman, Cassia, F. E. Rochester, shoemaker; Samuel E. DeMerritt, Lee, farmer; Maurice N. Lane, Lee, farmer; Charles Estes, Rochester, farmer; Leslie W. Ricker, New Durham, station agent; John H. Nutter, Rochester, shoemaker; Daniel Hasey, Rochester, blacksmith; and farmer, Abraham P. Otis, Sr. farmer; Henry Landecker, Dover; tired; Sam E. Page, Rochester, farmer; Arthur Carter, and Frank Steeper, Rochester, shoemakers.

The remainder of the afternoon was taken up in the opening of the case for the state by County Solicitor Nason, who informed the jury that the state expected to prove the truth of the allegation set forth in the indictment, that Joseph E. Kelley killed Cashier A. Stickney with a blackjack and razor, and that it was a deliberate and premeditated murder.

Court closed after Chief Justice Carpenter cautioned the jury about reading papers or listening to any remarks relating to the case while outside the courtroom.

New York, Nov. 9.—The rain today kept away most of the curious crowd which was present at the beginning of the Thorn trial yesterday and the bustle and excitement which prevailed at the opening was abated very considerably.

Lawyers Howe and Moss were on hand early and had a short conversation with Thorn and in the prison, Thorn was brought into court at 10 o'clock. As soon as the names of the jurors had been called District Attorney Young presented the case of the prosecution.

The first witness called was John McGuire, who with another youth was swimming at the foot of East 11th street. He described the finding of a bundle by his companion McKenna and how they cut open the bundle and found the upper portion of a body with a piece about eight inches square cut off the breast. McGuire described the piece of oilcloth produced in court, and also a photograph of the portion of the body.

James McKenna, the lad who swam for the bundle, was then called. He corroborated McGuire in every detail and said the bundle was floating northward from the 11th street ferry.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

New York, Nov. 9.—Monday was the first day of the trial of the barber, Martin Thorn, for the alleged murder of William Goldensuppe, a bath rubber. It was entirely taken up in securing a jury. Much to the surprise of all those interested, the efforts of the lawyers for the prosecution and defense were well rewarded, as 12 "good men and true" had been sworn to try the case when the hour for adjournment had arrived Monday evening.

The trial began shortly after 9:30 o'clock at Long Island City before Judge William M. Smith. District Attorney Young, assisted by Judge Walter and Assistant District Attorney Davidson, appeared for the prosecution, and Lawrence Howe and Moss, of the firm of Howe & Hummel, had charge of the defense of Thorn, to which they had been assigned by the authorities of New York and Queen's counties. Although Thorn was jointly indicted with Mrs. Augusta Naack for the murder, it was decided to try them separately. The district attorney made up his mind to try Thorn first, as the circumstantial evidence on which the people depend for a conviction is stronger against the man than against the woman. In case the prosecution fails to make a case against Thorn, it is unlikely that Mrs. Naack will be brought to trial.

The courtroom at the utmost could hardly accommodate 300 people comfortably, but long before the opening hour every seat and available point of vantage were occupied. The main body within the enclosure was reserved for the lawyers in the case and the reporters and artists of whom there were over three score in attendance. The side galleries were also filled with an anxious crowd, one of the most prominent onlookers there being Marie Barber, the Italian girl, who, after being sentenced to death for the murder of her former lover, was acquitted on a second trial. This young woman was married a few days ago, and Monday her husband sat beside her, both of them evincing a very keen interest in every thing that transpired during the six hours which were consumed in the selecting of the 12 jurors.

The district attorney did not expect to fill the jury box before Wednesday, but he and the lawyers for the defense worked hard and earnestly without quibbling or wasting a moment, and both sides were satisfied at the close that they had procured an intelligent and trustworthy jury that would render a just verdict on the evidence. After the names of the special jurors had been called for, Sheriff Doherty was directed to go down to the prison for Thorn. Two minutes afterwards the prisoner appeared handcuffed to Police Captain Medhen.

Thorn walked into the room with an elastic step and undaunted air, with his head erect. He was hatless, but his hair was brushed up from his forehead and his face was clearly shaven. He looked better than at any time since his incarceration, and his face showed no sign of the prison pallor which is so common among men who are closely confined. In fact, his face had a slight tinge of color as he sat down at the counsel table beside his lawyer.

When the handcuffs were taken from him, Thorn shook hands with both lawyers, and, after a few whispered words, glanced intently around the room, his sharp eyes, which are used only to watch points in his features, taking in the entire situation almost at a glance. Throughout the day he was very cool, and at times looked to be the most unconcerned person in the court. A smile frequently appeared on his features when Lawyer Howe would get rid of a dangerous-looking taleman, while at the time there was a quiet grin lurking around his mouth. The prisoner showed no signs of nervousness beyond an occasional twitching of the hands and fingers.

This morning at 10 o'clock the trial proper began. District Attorney Young, as briefly presenting the case. The lawyers think that all the evidence will not be in for at least two weeks.

In the Cabinet Today.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The full text of Spain's reply to the Woodford note was read at the cabinet meeting today. Its tone was very pacific and instead of being at all warlike, was regarded by the cabinet as very satisfactory, and as calculated to allay any fear of a hostile outbreak.

Yale's Great Year.

That Trading Stamp Scheme All Right!

It has stirred some one up tremendously. And no wonder, for it is drawing custom to the merchants who are in it, and the other man feels it and he uses his advertising space to tell how badly he feels.

Why Is It All Right!

Because the sensible buyer knows that he does not pay one cent more for his goods at the stores that give stamps, and these stamps may be exchanged at the Traders' Supply Co., for handsome presents that will beautify the home. People buy where they can get the most for their money, and that is with the merchants who give stamps with purchases.

TRULY WONDERFUL.
Was the Exhibition Given at Odd Fellows' Hall Monday Night.

The exhibition of the animatroscope given at Odd Fellows' hall Monday evening by Lynn E. Howe, under the auspices of Oneida Lodge, was all that had been claimed for it, and more, for it is impossible for language to convey any adequate conception of the marvelous reproductions of moving scenes as given by this late and great invention of Thomas A.
Edison.

There was a good sized audience present and from the time the first picture was thrown upon the canvas until the announcement of the last was regretfully heard its enthusiasm was steadily maintained and round after round of applause denoted the appreciation and pleasure of those who witnessed the phenomenally life-like scenes. Among the most striking were the French cavalry charge, two fire scenes, the Black Diamond express train running 60 miles an hour, hurdle jumping at a United States fort in Virginia, street and bathing scenes at Atlantic City, an Italian swimming pool
and the scene on the French coast after a storm, the last of which closed the entertainment.
It would be useless to attempt a description of these scenes. It must suffice to say that they are absolutely true to life,
as were the many others given, and, to use a well worn expression, must be seen to be appreciated.

Alternating with the views phono-graphic selections were given. The instrument was one of exceptional quality and the selections, both vocal and instrumental, were given with marked distinction and accuracy.
Mr. Howe has these two remarkable machines under perfect control and there was not a hitch in the program from beginning to end. The entertainment will be repeated this evening, when many different views will be given, and THE TRANSCRIPT does not hesitate to cordially recommend it to the North Adams
public.

Mulqueen--O'Connell.

Joseph P. Mulqueen and Miss Margaret
A. O'Connell, both of this city, were married this afternoon at St. Francis' church, parsonage. Patrick Mulqueen, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Mary O'Connell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. After a short reception the newlymarried couple left for New York and vicinity for an extended trip. Mr. and Mrs.
Mulqueen will reside in this city upon their return.

The Great Fight.

The pictures of the great Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight will be seen at Wilson opera house Wednesday afternoon and evening. These are the only pictures of the fight and are shown here under the management of W. A. Brady, Corbett's manager. The fourteen rounds of the fight will be given, showing the arena, audience and everything connected with the fight. Seats are now on sale at Wilson House drug store.

An Excellent Farce.

Fitz & Webster's "A breezy Time" will be seen for the third time in this city at Columbia opera house Wednesday evening. The comedy is a very bright one and has been rewritten since last season and is said to be even more catchy. The specialties are excellent and the musical numbers very fine. The company is stronger than ever and includes the original Fitz & Webster. Seats are now on sale at Bartlett's drug store.

The Largest Majority.

Most of the people of North Adams
and vicinity have decided that F. Satty, 51 Main street, has the finest peanuts to be found in this state, for sale at wholesale or retail.

THEY SAY!

And Thousands Echo Their Sentiments.

Who?
The people.
What the people say is true.
You can bet your life on that.
Who are the people?
We are the people.
But we are not all of them.
O, no!
Not by any means.
There are others.
There are thousands of them.
There are millions!
Lots of them are in North Adams.
And they say—
What?

That California Catarrh Cure cures cattarrh; that it stops hawking and spitting and the dropping into the throat, that it cures the stuffed up feeling and all the other irritating symptoms.
Here is what one of them says, only one,
but remember, there are others:
Frank Gaudette, 25 South street, a patter and paper hanger, familiar to North Adams people, says: "The way that California Catarrh Cure has relieved my head and stopped the dropping into my throat is wonderful; being troubled with catarrh I went to Burlingame & Darby's drug store and got a bottle, and from its use can truly testify to its great merits."

California Catarrh Cure for you, too.
In case of colds it is invaluable, as it helps in breaking them up, and entirely prevents a cold "hanging on," as well as the attacks of acute catarrh which so often follow a severe cold in the head.

To avoid Hay Fever in its season, use now, it will prevent the malady in its season. Get California Catarrh Cure, nothing else is as good, no matter who says so; for nothing else cures so quickly.
All dealers; 50 cents, three times as much for $1.

AT ADAMS TODAY
Polish Wedding Custom.

Michael Dubroski and Miss Mary Schronik were married at St. Thomas church Monday morning. Both reside on Croton street, and this morning, when the couple got into the hack and were being carried to the church, the drivers of the hacks were nearly frightened out of their wits at hearing six shots fired in succession. The horses, too, were badly scared, as were residents in that vicinity.
There was nothing to fear, however, for the carriages were blanks and the fusillade was only one of joy. When the couple returned six more shots were fired,
and thus it was that a real Polish custom was carried out. When the couple are married and return to the house a grand reception is held, and already the Poles on Croton street have an organized orchestra, which is always ready to discuss its wailing music on all such events.

Work of Mischiefous Boys.

For some time a number of boys have made a practice of throwing stones and other missiles at the brakemen on the Boston & Albany freight cars as they pass by on the cars between the Adams and Rensselaer stations. Most of the time they gather at the Anthony crossing which leads to Albert street in Elm grove. The brakemen have to jump and dodge and some of them have been hit with stones.
The boys are not small, but are between the ages of 12 and 14 years. Despite the threatening words that the men utter,
the boys laugh and keep on the practice. The local authorities have been notified and unless the boys stop their mischievous work at once they will be arrested. It is not long since several boys from Maple Grove were arrested for stopping a passenger train and the next day arrested and undoubtedly be made an example of.
Parents should also see that their boys are not among the number of mischievous ones.

Another Good Offer.

That Peter McBride is a pitcher who has done well and has a promising future is attested to by the many fine offers made him by different managers of baseball teams. He now has under his consideration an offer from Manhattan college of New York to play with the baseball team of that institution. The chance is an excellent one and those interested with Mr.
McBride to accept at once. He has made an excellent record this summer and his many friends will be glad to learn of his deserved advancement.

Sunday School Officers.

The annual meeting of the Sunday school of St. Paul's Universalist church was held Sunday afternoon and the following officers were elected: Superintendent, Charles F. Sayles; assistant superintendent, James C. Chalmers; treasurer,
Miss Abbie Snow; secretary, George Hoyt; organist, Miss Bessie Harmon.
There are 51 scholars in the school.

Thanksgiving Social and Dance.

The German Singing society is arranging for a social and dance to be held in Hermann hall on Spring street. Thanksgiving eve. The society will give a concert and dancing will follow with music by Doll's orchestra. Admission will be 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Sons of Veterans Meeting.

The regular meeting of W. C. Plunkett camp, Sons of Veterans, was held Monday evening. An inspection of the camp will be held next Monday evening and George Whipple of North Adams
will be the inspecting officer. Resolutions on the death of Edward Pendle-berry were also adopted. Two new members were mustered in.

District Court.

The case against J. L. Barker for alleged damages to George P. Sayles' property was continued from Monday until Saturday morning.
The cases against William and Sarah Ann Monroe for disturbance were also continued as was the case of Fred Van-Buskirk for drunkenness.

For This Evening.

Meeting of the Young Men's club at St.
Mark's parish house.
Regular meeting of Div. 3, A. O. H.
Meeting of Y. P. S. O. E.
The Epworth League will meet with
Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fiddler at Maple Grove.

Will Play in Pittsfield.

The local high school football team will go to Pittsfield Thursday afternoon to play the high school team of that city.
The Pittsfield team is much heavier than the local eleven, but, nevertheless, the Adams boys have said.

Y. P. S. O. E. Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Y. P. S. O. E. of the Congregational church will be held this evening in the Congregation house.
Miss Anna Baker will lead. The subject will be "Influence, Whim and How to Get It."

To Furnish Concert.

Quite a number from this town will go to the Deer Hill hall in West Cummings-ton this evening when the bazaar of the
A. O. U. W. of East Windsor will begin.

THAT "TRADING STAMP SCHEME!"

NORTH ADAMS, MASS., Nov. 8, 1897.

Why we are not in it, and probably many other reputable business houses of North Adams:

We, being the first merchants approached by this concern to take this scheme now located in this city and with headquarters in another state, deem it our duty to inform the public why it is not what they ought to encourage.

If you ignore the merchants who are trying to do a straightforward business, giving you your money's worth in goods, and buy of the firms only who have affiliated themselves with this "Trading Stamp Scheme," and have signed a contract to pay over to the "Trading Stamp" Co. for one year, payable every Monday morning, 5 per cent. of their cash business, to be governed by the amount of Trading Stamps given away every week, hundreds of dollars—yes, perhaps thousands, will be taken out of your city by this "Trading Stamp" Scheme Co. EVERY WEEK.

We ask you, Is it right for you to help make money scarce in your own city? You do it, and you could not do it better if you voted that way. Furthermore, a merchant can advance the price of his goods, well knowing you expect a "coupon" to help get some article from this "Trading Stamp" Co. which you could buy from some merchant in your own city, and he would use that money for himself, and perhaps the city of North Adams might be benefited by it.

Lastly, trade with the merchants you know are not affiliated with this stamp concern.
Don't help to send your money out of this city. It's not right.

Weber Bros. "The Wholesalers."

The entertainment will be a concert by local talent. The participants will be Edward Riley, John Marrett, Frank Mc-Nulty, Joseph Granel, Jr. and Harry Smith.

The original pictures of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight will be at Wilson opera house Wednesday afternoon and evening. On the same date "A Breezy Time" will be at the Columbia.

The regular meeting of the Adams cooperative bank will be held this evening.
The marble for the new memorial building is being got out as fast as possible and now the work of building is proceeding un-delayed.
